Election Called for on Three Major Election Laws of 1923 Legislative Assembly

SPECIAL ELECTION UNLIKELY
Governor Nestos, although he has not been officially informed that valid petitions have been filed for referendum vote on one bank tax validating act and three election laws of the 1923 legislative assembly and although he has not yet taken up the matter to ascertain the effect the filing of petitions might have on other laws, is not inclined to call a special election to decide the matter. The Governor today plainly indicated he would not call a special election unless it appeared necessary.

"I have thought that the people should not now be put to the expense of a special election and do not at this time consider that any good reason exists for holding an election this year," the Governor said. "If at any time it should appear that it was for the best interests that a special election should be held and the laws should be brought on for a vote earlier than in 1924 I should unquestionably call the election."

Four laws of the 1923 legislature will be referred to vote of the people under petitions filed with the Secretary of State. The time limit for referring laws by petition—60 days after the end of the session—expired at 5 p. m. yesterday.

The four laws are the bank tax validating act, and three election laws.

The Nonpartisan league state committee failed to file petitions for a referendum on six laws of the legislature as they had proposed. It is understood that the league committee did not have enough signatures on petitions to make up the necessary 7,000 names for referring a law.

R. W. Frazier, chairman of the Republican state committee, presented yesterday afternoon petitions for a referendum on senate bill No. 233, the non-party election law; house bill No. 285, providing a separate ballot for nomination and election of federal judges; and house bill No. 286, providing for means of party organization under the plan laid down in the two previous laws.

The failure of the Nonpartisans to file their petitions was a surprise. It had been anticipated by politicians that the league would easily secure 7,000 signatures to the petitions. J. J. Church, chairman of the committee, came to Bismarck a few days ago but left early yesterday to attend a meeting scheduled last night, and left his petitions with Mr. Frazier.

Mr. Frazier declared the petitions were not filed because the league was not interested in the election and if laws were referred about all you could do was to say "vote 'em 10 times."

His petitions called for an election in November, 1924. A special election could be called by the Governor.

Mr. Frazier declared there were around 7,000 names on the Nonpartisan league petitions on the six laws the league committee proposed to refer. He had not checked them up accurately, he said. It was learned from other sources that the petitions calling for a referendum on the appropriation to help the expenses of the house legislative committee of 1921 investigating state industries had several hundred less names on them than the petitions on the other laws had.

Laws Go Into Effect
The laws which the league proposed to refer were: To will appropriate $10,000 for the house investigation into conduct of state industries in 1921; S. B. 287, putting power of winding up affairs of closed banks in the supreme court and a commissioner; S. B. 286, revising the guaranty of bank deposits act, giving guaranty fund commissioner power over banks; S. B. 152, providing banks may merge; S. B. 204, requiring the full text of the laws to be printed on ballots when referred, and S. B. 261, providing for a board of managers for the state mill and elevator.

These laws now will be effective July 1.

Awkward Situation
At least one awkward situation is left by the filing of the petitions for referendum on the election laws, which suspends the operation of the laws until a vote is had, providing the petitions are sufficient. S. B. 204, which is now referred, was a companion election measure. It repeals section 959 of the election laws, omitting that portion of the law which provides how ballots shall be prepared, what form they will be, and requiring county auditors to rotate the names of candidates in position on the ballot. The repealing section (Continued on Page 3)

50 PER CENT INCREASE IN COAL MINING

Lignite Production for Year
1923 1,500,000 Tons on Present Basis

BIG SAVING IS MADE

North Dakota Consumers Save
Million Dollars by Substituting for Eastern Coals

In increase of 50 per cent in the production of lignite coal in 1923 over 1922 is estimated on the basis of shipments from August 5, 1922 to April 1, 1923. The amount of lignite shipped on North Dakota railroads during this period equals the entire production for the coal year, which ended Oct. 31, 1922.

V. E. Smart, traffic expert of the Railroad Commission, in a statement covering the production of lignite in the state since August 5th, 1922, when the Commission began securing weekly statements of lignite loaded from the railroads, shows that from August 5, 1922, to April 1, 1923, the mines in North Dakota had shipped 1,065,506 tons of lignite. Eighteen percent of this tonnage moved to points outside of the state.

The statement contains an interesting table showing the growth of the industry during the past few years as follows:

Year	Tons
1921	502,628
1922	499,480
1923	495,320
1924	506,685
1925	528,078
1926	634,912
1927	790,548
1928	813,000
1929	783,695
1930	878,969
1931	895,715
1932	1,057,823
1923, estimated	1,500,000

Much Lignite Shipped.
Of the 1,067,823 tons produced in 1922 the statement shows that 158,650 tons were delivered locally to consumers, 36,327 tons were used by the mines themselves, leaving 882,846 tons actually shipped over the railroads, or 160,000 tons less than have been shipped during the 35 weeks of this year covered by Mr. Smart's compilation. The public utilities have installed modern grates and stoker apparatus at several cities in the state making their plants able to produce electricity more cheaply per unit with lignite than with other coals, resulting in a consumption of lignite during the summer months of about 7,000 tons per week.

Based upon the average efficiency of a ton of lignite being sixty per cent of bituminous coals the increased consumption of lignite in North Dakota during the 35 weeks disclosed 242,000 tons of bituminous coals, and Mr. Smart shows that on this basis lignite constituted 65.7 per cent of the fuel used in North Dakota during that period. Eastern coal shortage, strikes, and increased prices of those coals resulted in many people using lignite this past winter, who never before had used it; found it a clean and economical fuel, dispelling a long standing prejudice which had resulted from use of poor grades of lignite found near the surface. Mr. Smart estimated the years production to reach 1.1-1.2 millions of tons, and a much more rapid growth of the industry another year.

Mr. Smart estimates that the increased use of lignite during the 35 weeks resulted in a financial saving of over $1,000,000 to the people of the state, at the same time furnishing winter work for our own people and using a common phrase "kept the money at home."

PRIEST SHOTS BOY FOUND IN ACT OF ROBBING BOXES OF POOR

Unintentional, Is Explanation
Given of Firing After Boy
Makes a Dash for Liberty.

Detroit, Mich., June 1.—Rev. Father Michael G. Esper, pastor of St. Boniface Catholic church early today shot and slightly wounded Harold Smith, 14, of Sudbury, Wis., as the boy made a dash for liberty after, it is alleged, he was caught in the act of robbing poor boxes in the church.

The priest, he told the police, was awakened by the ringing of a bell so arranged that it will sound if anyone enters the church during the night. The priest took a revolver and entered the church where, he says, he found the lad with two poor boxes in his hands.

He was conducting the lad from the church to the parish house, when the youth made a break for freedom. When Harold failed to stop, the latter fired three shots one of them grazing the lad's arm and another knocking him down. The boy was turned over to police.

Harold told the police he and his brother, John, 19, came here a few days ago and were stealing money with which to buy food. John is said by his younger brother to have been acting as look-out during the attempted robbery. He escaped.

The priest told officers he did not intend to shoot the boy, declaring he merely was attempting to bring him to a halt.

HEAVY RAINS CAUSE LOSSES IN ALBERTA

Several Streams Go Out Of Banks as Result of Heavy
Downpours

Calgary, Alt., June 1.—Heavy rains over southern Alberta reaching cloudburst proportions and in some places continuing for more than 24 hours today had caused flood conditions in this province.

According to reports from Okotoks, Sheep Creek and the High Wood river rose rapidly yesterday and serious flood conditions are threatened.

The Old Men river at Blairmore overflowed its banks after 16 hours of rain and many families were forced to move. Damage also was caused to business firms and the light and power lines were put out of commission. Several railway bridges are reported to have been washed out near Blairmore.

Among the novel entertainment features will be the repetition of the pageant, "The Story of the Deaf," to be presented on the campus of the North Dakota School for the Deaf here, by pupils, who will use only the sign language in telling the story that will be enacted. The annual parade of the association will be held at 7:30 p. m. The Devils Lake Boy Concert band will give concerts during the three days of the convention, and the firemen will be welcomed to the city by A. V. Haig, president of the city commission. The memorial address will be delivered on the morning of the first day by Hon. F. C. Robeson, mayor of Cando, N. D., and addresses will be delivered during the convention by Lieutenant Governor Frank S. Hyland of Devils Lake, W. P. DuVal of Valley City, E. W. Wilson of Minnor, and L. R. HOPE SEEN IN FOREST FIRES AS WIND FAILS

One New Serious Fire Is Reported to Headquarters
Of Forest Reserve

WHITE RIVER ESCAPES

Four Buildings Burn But Serious Conflagration Is Prevented There

St. Paul, June 1.—One new serious fire building in the forest about 12 miles north of the village of Orr was reported to the headquarters of the forest reservists here today. The fire which broke out yesterday is threatening heavy stands of green timber in Pelican state forest. A crew of more than 100 men is fighting the fire.

WIND SUBSIDES.

Duluth, June 1.—While prospects for rain still were remote wind conditions today continued to favor the large crews of men fighting timber and brush-fires in northeastern Minnesota and forest rangers reported the larger fires checked temporarily.

The wind subsided late yesterday and the guards brought virtually all the fire under control before further loss of property resulted. So far as is known at the local district office of the state service the loss has been confined to a few cottages and lumber camps and less than $5,000 worth of cutwood products. The destruction of green timber has been comparatively small. Foresters estimated that thousands of dollars of damage have been caused to the young trees and seedlings.

TOWN ESCAPES.

Fort William, Ontario, June 1.—White River, which was seriously menaced by a brush fire yesterday was considered out of danger, a train crew which passed through last night reported on arrival here today. Four buildings in the town caught fire, members of the train crew said, but were extinguished before serious damage was done.

Fires are still raging between Chaplain and the White River, the train men said, and many telegraph poles are down near Missanabe. Rain is hoped for as the only means of finally quenching the flames, they said.

BILLION SHIP OFFER IS HELD ONLY A DREAM

No Chance of It Being Accepted, Chairman Lasker Asserts

Washington, June 1.—A thorough investigation has convinced the Shipping Board, Chairman Lasker announced today that there is no prospect that the bid of more than a billion dollars made by John Flack of Silver Creek, N. Y. for the board's merchant fleet would ever be executed if it were accepted.

An inquiry on the subject was conducted by the Shipping Board in conjunction with other government departments with which Mr. Flack has had business transactions with the result, Mr. Lasker said, that the offer had been definitely classed as a "summer dream."

SOVIET GETS NEW DEMANDS

British Insist on Propaganda Representatives Withdrawal

Moscow, June 1.—The Soviet government is gravely considering the latest demands of Great Britain in the Anglo-Russian dispute which are reported to include insistence upon withdrawal of the Russian representatives from Persia and Afghanistan where they have been accused of anti-British propaganda. The tone of the official press indicates that Russia has already yielded as far as is considered possible.

"The whole affair now rests with the British public opinion," says the Iestia, in declaring that the appetite of Lord Curzon, the British secretary for foreign affairs "is growing as he eats" and that he is striving for a break.

GERMAN PEOPLE DIZZY AS MARKS TAKE ANOTHER FALL, AND CYCLE OF RISING PRICES IS REPEATED

Berlin, June 1.—The German mark continued to drop in the exchange market today. Opening this morning at about 89,500 to the dollar it had by noon reached 72,000 to the dollar. Close on the heels of the new collapse of the mark has come the inevitable rise in prices affecting virtually every article of daily necessity. The increases range from 50 to more than 100 per cent as compared with the prevailing prices at the beginning of May. The German people, particularly in Berlin, are finding themselves growing more and more dizzy as they are caught in the circle of new depreciation of the currency followed by higher wholesale and then by higher retail prices with consequent demand for more wages, even a repetition of the same cycle of events.

During the last few days in Berlin the retail cost of the most essential foodstuffs has become virtually double that of the first part of May.

ONLY 2 FILE FOR ELECTION TO SCHOOL BOARD

Time for fixing intention to be candidates for the city school board expired last evening, with but two candidates, A. P. Lenhart and E. V. Lahr in the field. Both are standing for re-election. Candidates can be run on "stickers" in the election June 5.

NORTH DAKOTA IS ANSWERED BY FLORIDA

Legislature of That State
Adopts Resolution Repealing Action Taken

Tallahassee, Fla., June 1.—Both houses of the legislature today adopted a resolution replying to the assembly of North Dakota in its investigation replying to the death of Martin Tabert of North Dakota.

The resolution repudiated the inquiry made by the legislature, the corrective measures that have been taken to prevent a repetition of conditions that led to his death in the camp of the Putnam company at Clara, Florida, "but owned in Wisconsin," and the fact that the man held responsible for his death is now waiting trial in court.

All reference to the removal of two local county officials, the sheriff and county judge, who responded to arrest and sentence of the Tabert youth for train riding was stricken from the resolution in the senate.

PRISONERS WANT WORK

Tallahassee, Fla., June 1.—The first "reactions" from Florida's convict reform of banning corporal punishment were reported to the commissioner of agriculture from three sources and in telegrams and letters. O. Ewing, president of the West Florida Naval Stores company of Pensacola, which leases county convicts under a practice that will be abolished Jan. 1, told the commissioner his prisoners were refusing to work. Similar reports were made by the warden of state road camp No. 2 at Starke, and by Captain L. S. McIntosh of a camp in Hollabrough, county.

Apparently the commissioner's order directing that no more prisoners be whipped, in line with legislation recently enacted has just reached these camps it was stated and its effect is being felt.

Generally unsatisfactory conditions among the convicts were reported in each case. "The men are laying down," according to the reports, "while in some instances some had gone so far as to curse the guards."

The commissioner was asked what should be done. He replied by instructing that the men be put in solitary confinement and other means of discipline worked out until the board of commissioners of public institutions could promulgate substitute regulations for the whip.

Brussels, June 1.—The national union of railway men has called off the strike that has paralyzed transportation the last few weeks. The union made its decision last night in order to clear itself of charges that the strike was financed by German money. It was reported that a check for 150,000 francs, drawn on the Reichbank in the favor of the union was presented at an American branch bank by a union official. Payment was refused.

CITY TO TAKE FINANCE BIDS HERE JUNE 11

Will Offer For Sale $475,000 of Warrants and $225,000
of Water Works Bonds

CONTRACTS ARE LET

Three Let, Some Others Decided—Definite Policy in Water Matter Settled

The city commission, moving speedily toward decision on all problems involved in the water works matter, today had done these things:

Authorized advertisement for bids for sale of $475,000 of special assessment warrants bearing 6 percent interest and $225,000 of water bonds, bids to be received June 11 at 8 p. m. Money to be used either in building new water works system or in purchase and improvement of privately owned system.

Resolution adopted instructing city engineer to prepare report to city commission next Monday night on value of present plant, this value to be arrived at by applying unit prices in bids on construction of new plant to present plant, and figuring depreciation.

Decided to make definite offer for purchase of old plant on basis of this valuation.

Let three contracts and will decide two others, probably today.

Decided that whole matter must be definitely settled as far as city is concerned, as quickly as possible.

In Long Session

The commission met yesterday afternoon in executive session with the city commission and city engineer present. The session was a long one, and the meeting again this afternoon. Bids on some of the units in the construction of a new plant appeared to argue the merits of their equipment and bids.

The most important action of the day was the decision to sell bonds authorized in recent election and warrants to the city with interest to be sold and $225,000 bond the city would have $700,000 to finance building of a new plant, or purchase of the present plant and improvement. The warrants could bear a maximum of 7 percent, but it is believed by the commission that they can be sold at a premium at 6 percent interest.

The city commission will make a definite offer to the Bismarck Water Supply Company for its plant, and because of the necessity of settling matters with contractors who have bid on a new plant, it is stated there will be no long drawn-out negotiations.

Let Three Contracts.

The commission formally let contracts Nos. 3, 4 and 5, which work would be additions to the present plant or would be included in a new plant. They are: Contract No. 3, filtration plant building, to Woodrich Construction Co., Minneapolis, low bidder, $108,292.00; contract No. 4, heating system in filtration plant building, F. G. Grambs, Bismarck, $7,292.00, only bidder; contract No. 5, filter equipment, McFarland Engineering Co., Kansas City, Mo., $24,880.00.

The last named bidder was higher than the Bacharach company, Kansas City, by less than $100, according to city engineers. It was said by commissioners that the contract was let to the McFarland company because their bid provided for use of Simplex valves, favored for use by L. P. Wolff, consulting engineer for the city.

Hold Open Contracts

Contracts No. 1 and 2 have been decided as to bidders, the American Cast Iron Pipe Company on the first and the DeGraff-Wolf company on the second. The first is for furnishing pipe and hydrants and the second for laying it. Contract No. 7, for building reservoirs, will be let to the Woodrich Construction Co. for $47,931.00.

The commission has yet to settle Nos. 6, for pumping equipment, and No. 8, for reservoir building.

Telegrams were sent to bidders on contracts Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, asking them to hold open their bids until June 12, the day after bonds and warrants are to be sold. It is expected that on that date the city commission will be able to give them definite answer on their contracts. Bidders have given the assurance they will do this, it is stated.

With these decisions the policy of the commission is definitely settled, in most respects.

A telegram in reply was received today from the Woodrich company, stating it was shipping material to begin work on the filtration plant, and would hold open its bid on contract No. 7 for 30 days if necessary.

Election Called for on Three Major Election Laws of 1923 Legislative Assembly

SPECIAL ELECTION UNLIKELY

Four laws of the 1923 legislature will be referred to vote of the people under petitions filed with the Secretary of State. The time limit for referring laws by petition—90 days after the end of the session—expired at 5 p. m. yesterday.

The four laws are the bank tax validating act, and three election laws.

The Nonpartisan league state committee failed to file petitions for a referendum on six laws of the legislature as they had proposed. It is understood that the league committee did not have enough signatures on petitions to make up the necessary 7,000 names for referring a law.

R. W. Frazier of Crosby, chairman of the Republican state committee, presented yesterday afternoon petitions for a referendum on senate bill No. 223, the non-party election law; house bill No. 285, providing a separate ballot for nomination and election of federal officers and house bill No. 282 providing for means of party organization under the plan laid down in the two previous laws.

Mr. Frazier declared the petitions were not filed because it was agreed that the issue should not be confused between the election and other laws.

"They were not filed because it was understood a special election would be called soon, there would not be time enough to make a proper campaign on the election laws, and if 10 laws were referred about all you could do was to say 'vote ye 10 times.'"

His petitions called for an election in November, 1924. A special election could be called by the Governor.

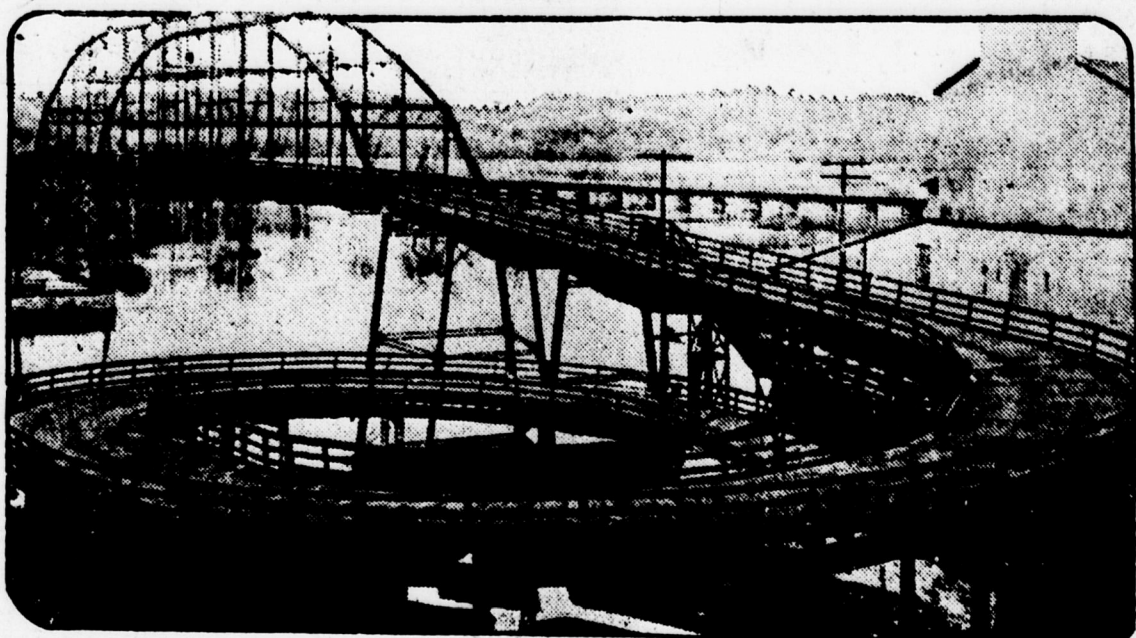

Mr. Frazier declared there were around 7,000 names on the Nonpartisan league petitions on the six laws the league committee proposed to refer. He had not checked them up accurately, he said. It was learned from other sources that the petitions calling for a referendum on the appropriation to pay the expenses of the house legislative committee of 1921 investigating state industries had several hundred less names on them than the petitions on the other laws had.

Laws Go Into Effect
The laws which the league proposed to refer were: The bill appropriating $10,953.65 for the house investigation into conduct of state industries in 1921; S. B. 267, putting power of winding up affairs of closed banks in the supreme court and a commissioner; S. B. 250, rewriting the guaranty of bank deposits act, giving guaranty fund commission power over banks; S. B. 152, providing banks may serve; S. Of the 1,057,823 tons produced in 1922 the statement shows that 158,650 tons were delivered locally to consumers, 36,327 tons were used by the mines themselves, leaving 862,846 tons actually shipped over the railroads, or 160,000 tons less than have been shipped during the 35 weeks of this year covered by Mr. Smart's compilation. The public utilities have installed modern grates and stoker apparatus at several cities in the state making their plants able to produce electricity more cheaply per unit with lignite than with other coals, resulting in a consumption of lignite during the summer months of about 7,000 tons per week.

Based upon the average efficiency of a ton of lignite being sixty per cent of bituminous coals the increased consumption of lignite in North Dakota during the 35 weeks displaced 242,000 tons of bituminous coals, and Mr. Smart shows that on this basis lignite constituted 65.7 per cent of the fuel used in North Dakota during that period. Eastern coal shortage, strikes, and increased prices of those coals resulted in many people using lignite this past winter, who never before had used it; found it a clean and economical fuel, displacing a long standing prejudice which had resulted from use of poor grades of lignite found near the surface. Mr. Smart estimated the years production to reach 1.1-2 millions of tons, and a much more rapid growth of the industry another year.

Mr. Smart estimates that the increased use of lignite during the 35 weeks resulted in a financial saving of over $1,000,000 to the people of the state, at the same time furnishing winter work for our own people and using a common phrase "kept the money at home."

PRIEST SHOTS BOY FOUND IN ACT OF ROBBING BOXES OF POOR

Unintentional, Is Explanation Given of Firing After Boy Makes a Dash for Liberty.

Detroit, Mich., June 1.—Rev. Father Michael G. Esper, pastor of St. Boniface Catholic church early today shot and slightly wounded Harold Smith, 14, of Sudbury, Wis., as the boy made a dash for liberty after, it is alleged, he was caught in the act of robbing poor boxes in the church.

The priest, he told the police, was awakened by the ringing of a bell so arranged that it will sound if anyone enters the church during the night. The priest took a revolver and entered the church where, he says, he found the lad with two poor boxes in his hands.

He was conducting the lad from the church to the parish house when the youth made a dash for freedom. When Harold failed to stop, the latter fired three shots one of them grazing the lad's arm and another knocking him down. The boy was turned over to police.

Harold told the police he and his brother, John, 19, came here a few days ago and were stealing money with which to buy food. John is said by his younger brother to have been acting as look-out during the attempted robbery. He escaped.

The priest told officers he did not intend to shoot the boy, declaring he merely was attempting to bring him to a halt.

HEAVY RAINS CAUSE LOSSES IN ALBERTA

Several Streams Go Out Of Banks as Result of Heavy Downpours

Calgary, Alt., June 1.—Heavy rains over southern Alberta reaching cloudburst proportions and in some instances continuing for more than 24 hours today had caused flood conditions in this province.

According to reports from Okotoks, Sheep Creek and the High Wood river rose rapidly yesterday and serious flood conditions are threatened.

The Old Men river at Blainmore, overflowed its banks after 16 hours of rain and many families were forced to move. Damage also was caused to business firms and the light and power lines were put out of commission. Several railway bridges are reported to have been washed out near Blainmore.

FIREMEN OF STATE MEET ON JUNE 5-7

Governor Nestos To Speak At 39th Annual Convention

Devils Lake, N. D., June 1.—Gov. R. A. Nestos will be the principal speaker of the 39th annual convention of the North Dakota Firemen's association to be held here June 5 and 6. The exact time of the governor's appearance on the program has not been ascertained, but will be announced later.

The Devils Lake fire department, which will be the host of the firemen from all parts of the state, is making elaborate preparations for entertaining the visitors. Among the novel entertainment features will be the repetition of the pageant, "The Story of the Deaf," to be presented on the campus of the North Dakota School for the Deaf here, by pupils, who will use only the sign language in telling the story that will be enacted. The annual parade of the association will be held at 7:30 p. m. June 6, and will take the form of "The Dingyville Firemen's Turnout," according to the program. Many novel features will be introduced in this parade.

The Devils Lake Boy Concert band will give concerts during the three days of the convention, and the firemen will be welcomed to the city by A. V. Haig, president of the city commission. The memorial address will be delivered on the morning of the first day by Hon. F. C. Robeson, major of Cando, N. D., and addresses will be delivered during the convention by Lieutenant Governor Frank S. Hyland of Devils Lake, W. F. DuVall of Valley City, E. W. Wilson of Minn. and L. R. HOPE SEEN IN FOREST FIRES AS WIND FAILS

One New Serious Fire Is Reported to Headquarters Of Forest Reserve

WHITE RIVER ESCAPES

Four Buildings Burn But Serious Conflagration Is Prevented There

St. Paul, June 1.—One new serious fire building in the forest about 12 miles north of the village of Orr was reported to the headquarters of the forest reservists here today. The fire which broke out yesterday is threatening heavy stands of green timber in Pelican state forest. A crew of more than 100 men is fighting the fire.

WIND SUBSIDES.

Duluth, June 1.—While prospects for rain still were remote wind conditions today continued to favor the large crews of men fighting timber and brush-fires in northeastern Minnesota and forest rangers reported the larger fires checked temporarily.

The wind subsided late yesterday and the guards brought virtually all the fire under control before further loss of property resulted. So far as is known at the local district office of the state service the loss has been confined to a few cottages and lumber camps and less than $5,000 worth of cutwood products. The destruction of green timber has been comparatively small. Foresters estimated that thousands of dollars of damages had been caused to the young trees and seedlings.

TOWN ESCAPES.

Fort William, Ontario, June 1.—White River, which was seriously menaced by a brush fire yesterday was considered out of danger, a train crew which passed through last night reported on arrival here today. Four buildings in the town caught fire, members of the train crew said, but were extinguished before serious damage was done.

Fires are still raging between Chaplain and the White River, the train men said, and many telegraph poles are down near Missanabie. Rain is hoped for as the only means of finally quenching the flames, they said.

BILLION SHIP OFFER IS HELD ONLY A DREAM

No Chance of it Being Accepted, Chairman Lasker Asserts

Washington, June 1.—A thorough investigation has convinced the Shipping Board, Chairman Lasker announced today that there is no prospect that the bid of more than a billion dollars made by John Flack of Silver Creek, N. Y. for the board's merchant fleet would ever be executed if it were accepted.

An inquiry on the subject was conducted by the Shipping Board in conjunction with other government departments with which Mr. Flack has had business transactions with the result, Mr. Lasker said, that the offer had been definitely classed as a "summer dream."

SOVIET GETS NEW DEMANDS

British Insist on Propaganda Representatives Withdrawal

Moscow, June 1.—The Soviet government is gravely considering the latest demands of Great Britain in the Anglo-Russian dispute which are reported to include insistence upon withdrawal of the Russian representatives where they have been accused of anti-British propaganda. The tone of the official press indicates that Russia has already yielded as far as is considered possible.

"The whole affair now rests with the British public opinion," says the Isvestia, in declaring that the appetite of Lord Curzon, the British secretary for foreign affairs "is growing as he eats" and that he is striving for a break.

GERMAN PEOPLE DIZZY AS MARKS TAKE ANOTHER FALL, AND CYCLE OF RISING PRICES IS REPEATED

Berlin, June 1.—The German mark continued to drop in the exchange market today. Opening this morning at about 69,500 to the dollar it had by noon reached 72,650 to the dollar.

Close on the heels of the new collapse of the mark has come the inevitable rise in prices affecting virtually every article of daily necessity. The increases range from 50 to more than 100 per cent as compared with the prevailing prices at the beginning of May. The German people, particularly in Berlin, are finding themselves growing more and more dizzy as they are caught in the circle of new depreciation of the currency followed by higher wholesale and then by higher retail prices with consequent demand for more wages, then a repetition of the same cycle of events.

During the last few days in Berlin the retail cost of the most essential foodstuffs has become virtually double that of the first part of May.

ONLY 2 FILE FOR ELECTION TO SCHOOL BOARD

Time for fixing intention to be candidates for the city school board expired last evening, with but two candidates, A. P. Lenhart and E. V. Lahr in the field. Both are standing for re-election. Candidates can be run on "stickers" in the election June 5.

NORTH DAKOTA IS ANSWERED BY FLORIDA

Legislature of That State Adopts Resolution Reciting Action Taken

Tallahassee, Fla., June 1.—Both houses of the legislature today adopted a resolution replying to the assembly of North Dakota in its investigation replying to the death of Martin Tabert of North Dakota. The resolution recited the injury made by the legislature, the corrective measures that have been taken to prevent a repetition of conditions that led to his death in the camp of the Putnam company at Clara, Florida, "but owned in Wisconsin" and the fact that the man held responsible for his death is now waiting trial in court.

All reference to the removal of two local county officials, the sheriff and county judge, who respectively arrested and sentenced the Tabert youth for train riding was stricken from the resolution in the senate.

PRISONERS WONT WORK

Tallahassee, Fla., June 1.—The first "reactions" from Florida's convict reform of banning corporal punishment were reported to the commissioner of agriculture from three sources and in telegrams and letters. D. A. Ewing, president of the West Florida Naval Stores company of Pensacola, which leases company convicts under a practice that will be abolished Jan. 1, told the commissioner his prisoners were refusing to work. Similar reports were made by the warden of state road camp No. 2 at Starke, and by Captain L. S. McIntosh of a camp in Hollisborough county.

Apparently the commissioner's order directing that no more prisoners be whipped, in line with legislation recently enacted has just reached these camps it was stated and its effect is being felt.

Generally unsatisfactory conditions among the convicts were reported in each case. "The men are laying down," according to the reports, while in some instances some had gone so far as to curse the guards. The commissioner was asked what should be done. He replied by instructing that the men be put in solitary confinement and other means of discipline worked out until the board of commissioners of public institutions could promulgate substitute regulations for the whip.

BELGIANS CALL OFF STRIKE

Charge That German Money Financed it Prompts Action

Brussels, June 1.—The national union of railway men has called off the strike that has paralyzed transportation the last few weeks. The union made its decision last night in order to clear itself of charges that the strike was financed by German money. It was reported that a check for 150,000 francs drawn on the German Reichsbank in the favor of the union was presented at an American branch bank by a union official. Payment was refused.

CITY TO TAKE FINANCE BIDS HERE JUNE 11

Will Offer For Sale $475,000 of Warrants and $225,000 of Water Works Bonds

CONTRACTS ARE LET

Three Let, Some Others Decided—Definite Policy in Water Matter Settled

The city commission, moving steadily toward decision on all problems involved in the water works matter, today had done these things:

Authorized advertisement for bids for sale of $475,000 of special assessment warrants bearing 6 percent interest and $225,000 of 5 percent bonds, bids to be received June 11 at 8 p. m. Money to be used either in building new water works system or in purchase and improvement of privately owned system.

Resolution adopted instructing city engineer to present report to city commission next Monday night of value of present plant, this value to be arrived at by applying unit prices in bids on construction of new plant to present plant, and figuring depreciation.

Decided to make definite offer for purchase of old plant on basis of this valuation.

Let three contracts and will decide two others, probably today.

Decided that whole matter must be definitely settled as far as city is concerned, as quickly as possible.

In Long Session

The commission met yesterday afternoon in executive session with the city commission and city engineer. From 2 p. m. to 6 p. m., and is meeting again this afternoon. Bidders on some of the units in the construction of a new plant appeared to argue the merits of their equipment and bids.

The most important action of the day was the decision to sell bonds authorized in a recent election and warrants. With $475,000 warrants to be sold and $225,000 bonds the city would have $700,000 to finance building of a new plant, or purchase of the present plant and improvement. The warrants could bear a maximum of 7 percent, but it is believed by the commission that they can be sold at a premium at 6 percent interest.

The city commission itself will make a definite offer to the Bismarck Water Supply Company for its plant, and because of the necessity of settling with contractors who have bid on a new plant, it is stated there will be no long drawn-out negotiations.

Let Three Contracts.
The commission formally let contracts Nos. 3, 4 and 5, which would be additions to the present plant or would be included in a new plant. They are: Contract No. 3, filtration plant building, to Woodrich Construction Co., Minneapolis, low bidder, $108,292.00; contract No. 4, heating system in filtration plant building, F. G. Grambs, Bismarck, $7,292.00, only bidder; contract No. 5, filter equipment, McFarland Engineering Co., Kansas City, Mo., $24,886.00.

The last named bidder was higher than the Bacharach company, Kansas City, by less than $100, according to city engineers. It was said by commissioners that the contract was let to the McFarland company because their bid provided for use of Simplex valves, favored for use by L. P. Wolff, consulting engineer for the city.

Hold Open Contracts

Contracts No. 1 and 2 have been decided as to bidders, the American Cast Iron Pipe Company on the first and the DeGraff-Wolf company on the second. The first is for furnishing pipe and hydrants and the second for laying it. Contract No. 7, for building reservoirs, will be let to the Woodrich Construction Co. for $47,931.

The commission has yet to settle Nos. 6, for pumping equipment, and No. 7, for reservoir building.

Telegrams were sent to bidders on contracts Nos. 1, 2, 6 and 7 asking them to hold open their bids until June 12, the day after bonds and warrants are to be sold. It is expected that on that date the city commission will be able to give them definite answer on their contracts. Bidders have given verbal assurance they will do this, it is stated.

With these decisions the policy of the commission is definitely settled, in most respects.

A telegram in reply was received today from the Woodrich company, stating it was shipping material to begin work on the filtration plant, and would hold open its bid on contract No. 7 for 30 days if necessary.

SHANLEYS ARE AGAIN VICTORS IN JAMESTOWN

Bismarck Not Only Wins Game But Obtains Services of Star Catcher

Jamestown, N. D., June 1.—The Shanleys from Bismarck were feeling pretty good today, after leaving Bismarck with four straight losses to Union.

The Bismarck baseball club not only won its third straight game from the Jimkatons, but Manager Shanley got release from St. Paul of Dan Douglas, star catcher of the Dakota league last year.

The ten inning victory of Bismarck was hardly less important than Douglas's acquisition. The little catcher was the life of the Mitchell team, champions of the Dakota league last year, and was bought by St. Paul. He played in two games last week for St. Paul, and it was only after considerable insistence on the part of the Bismarck management that Douglas was released under a 24-hour option of recall.

St. Paul already had three veteran catchers, but the club didn't want to lose Douglas entirely. Newt Randall joined the Bismarck club today and will play right field in today's game, with Boardman playing first.

A home run by Reider, Bismarck center-fielder, helped give the Shanleys the game here yesterday evening by a 5 to 4 score. Jamestown got some consolation in the fact that Reider was lucky on the hit for it scored under a line of autos and he could have made a couple of more circuits before it was found. Catcher Noll got the single in the tenth inning which drove in Bismarck's game. Jamestown played a perfect game in the tenth after Chenoweth hit a two-bagger.

Hettman started to pitch for Bismarck but was only in long enough for Jamestown to get a couple of hits when Tom Jennings was substituted. Bismarck 200 010 000 2-5 3 0 Jamestown 201 000 000 1-4 8 3

PAT MORAN AND HIS REDS NOW GOING STRONG

After a Bad Split They Now Are Bidding For The First Division

Chicago, June 1.—Now comes Pat Moran and his Cincinnati Reds. The Reds aren't exactly emulating the Brooklyn Robins in their own league or the Philadelphia Athletics in the American since Cincinnati was preseason rated as a likely combination. But having begun woefully the present burst of the Reds is notable.

Bad weather ended other teams in beating down the Reds, but within the last week or so they seem to have found themselves. In winning their third straight victory over Chicago, yesterday, 3 to 2, Cincinnati advanced to fifth place, two points within St. Louis' insecure hold in the first division.

Brooklyn kept on its winning form, trouncing Boston 5 to 2, and keeping ahead of the St. Louis Cardinals who met Pittsburgh and won, 4 to 1. The Brooklyn contest was notable for Marquard's effectiveness against Zack Wheat, leading National League batsman, who failed to hit for the first time in 21 games.

Jack Bentley, whose ineffectiveness at times had caused New York fans to question the wisdom of paying $65,000 for him, to Baltimore, won his third game out of seven yesterday, beating the Philadelphia Quakers 4 to 1.

The Philadelphia Athletics were able but because of their double defeat on Memorial Day they slipped into third place while Cleveland was trimming Chicago, 5 to 4, through the timely hitting of Manager Tris Speaker.

The New York Yankees also took advantage of the Athletics' lull and advanced farther into the lead trouncing Boston 8 to 1. Wallie Pipp hit safely in his 21st consecutive game. Detroit was unable to make up lost ground, losing to St. Louis 8 to 3, because of poor pitching.

Reppa, who added to White's string from New York Mills, Minnesota, pitched a good game all the way through and was supported much better than Finch was in the series opening here.

LEWIS AND CLARK ONCE CAMPED WHERE DEMPSEY IS NOW TRAINING FOR FIGHT

JACK'S TRAINING QUARTERS

BY BILL BREITENSTEIN
NEA Service Writer
Great Falls, Mont., June 1.—Spirits of Lewis and Clark haunt Jack Dempsey's training quarters.

Shades of the gallant explorers, who blazed the white man's trail through the great northwest, hover over the spot where the champion is pummeling his sparring partners.

Here 119 years ago these daring pioneers made camp. Just a mile above on the banks of the swiftly rushing Missouri, where the Cascade county poor-farm stands today, they smoked the pipe of peace with hostile Indians.

Grizzlies were encountered on a little island half a mile from the scene of Dempsey's camp on July 4, 1804. So Lewis and Clark called the island "White Bear." That has been its name ever since.

But there is even more history behind the present "Dempseyville."

A century after Lewis and Clark had come, Old Brewster, known for miles around, was there brewing his hops. It was his grandson, Charley Volk who closed the deal with Dempsey for the property.

The old brewery burned down some year ago. A roadhouse sprang up in its place. The old orchestra piano still was in the living room when Jack moved in.

Now the inner domain half is a rubbing room and bath. The outer hall is a gymnasium.

With Jack are his two brothers John and Bernard.

THRILL!
Came When Dan Passed.
By Bob Dorman

Harve, Mont., June 1.—I asked Tom Gibbons what he thought was the most thrilling moment he had ever experienced in the ring.

Tom grinned as he replied: "That's easy. It was a fight with Dan O'Dowd at New Orleans a year ago last November.

"Six rounds had gone by. In every round I had scored Dan—in some of them several times. But he bounced off the floor each time as if he were made of rubber.

"I became more and more puzzled. I couldn't understand it. Every time he went down, I'd lean over and watch him to see if he was out.

"Finally, in the sixth, I caught him on the point of the chin with a straight right, and down he went to stay down.

"And believe me I got a thrill when I saw he wasn't coming up.

Tom grinned as he replied: "That's easy. It was a fight with Dan O'Dowd at New Orleans a year ago last November.

"Six rounds had gone by. In every round I had scored Dan—in some of them several times. But he bounced off the floor each time as if he were made of rubber.

"I became more and more puzzled. I couldn't understand it. Every time he went down, I'd lean over and watch him to see if he was out.

"Finally, in the sixth, I caught him on the point of the chin with a straight right, and down he went to stay down.

"And believe me I got a thrill when I saw he wasn't coming up.

FINANCIERS EXPRESS FAITH IN THIS STATE

General Sentiment of Situation Is Reassuring Wells Dickey Organ Believes

Fargo, June 1.—That the financial world has complete confidence in North Dakota is indicated in views expressed in publications issued by large financial institutions of the country. The sentiment that prevails generally in the business world towards North Dakota is expressed by articles that appeared recently in the news letter, issued by the Wells Dickey Co. of Minneapolis. One says in part:

"It was rather reassuring to receive today a fine order for North Dakota municipals from one of North Dakota's own banks—convincing evidence that the old state is coming back strong.

"It is also interesting to know that the March tax collections in North Dakota, were about $1,000,000 heavier and that the state treasurer's balance is about $1,500,000 in excess of what it was last year. There is no question about the ultimate return of the farming communities of the northwest, which have suffered so severely the past few years."

NEW CLUE TO HALL MURDER IS UNCOVERED

Story Told by Neighbor Woman of Pair's Murder Held Disproved

New Brunswick, N. J. June 1.—County officials have unearthed a new suspect in their investigation into the murder last September of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and his choir leader, Mrs. Eleanor Mills, is learded today.

Officials admitted that a man previously questioned and who had presented an alibi now was the subject of investigation. It was said his elimination as a suspect, had been found to be untrue in essential details.

Recent investigation, officials said, had further convinced them that the story of Mrs. James Gibson, a neighbor of the murdered couple, was without foundation. Mrs. Gibson maintained she had seen a man and a woman unidentified by her commit the murder.

Tom Alley, driver of a car that crashed through a fence during Wednesday's race, killing Herbert Shoup, three of his boy companions, was still in a critical condition today but physicians expected his recovery.

JESS BEGINS HIS TRAINING
Los Angeles, Cal., June 1.—Jess Willard, heavyweight contender for Jack Dempsey's title began training in the Hollywood American Legion stadium for his scheduled July 7 bout with Luis Angel Firpo of Argentina.

Willard took things rather easy but issued a general call for sparring partners, announcing that he expected to be fairly into the heavy grind by next Wednesday, when he plans to leave for Wichita to appear in an exhibition bout.

SALARY HELD NOT CHANGED
Statutory salaries cannot be changed by the legislature in general appropriation bills, in the opinion of Attorney General George Shafer. Answering an inquiry concerning the powers of the state highway commission to fix the salary of the motor registrar, Mr. Shafer pointed out that the law provided it could be fixed by the commission but not to exceed $6,000, and that the legislature in 1922 in the general appropriation bill appropriated $4,800 for the salary for two years. The prior legislative enactment obtains, he says, the matter having been decided by the supreme court, and the salary shall not be more than $2,000 annually.

MARKET NEWS
CONDITION OF CROPS GOOD
Lower Quotations From Liverpool Also Bearish Factor

Chicago, June 1.—The crop conditions generally auspicious for growth the wheat market underwent a material decline today in early dealings. Lower quotations at Liverpool acted as a contributing bearish factor. On the other hand, although announcement that cottonseed houses were to report to the Secretary of Agriculture accounts long or short one million bushels or more was construed in some quarters as implying that accounts of less than one million bushels are too small to be objectionable. Such views failed, apparently, to have any bullish result. Opening price, which ranged from unchanged figures to 1-2 cent lower with July $1.13-1-2 to $1.13-7-8 and September $1.13 to $1.13-1-4 were followed by a decided drop all around.

Subsequently liquidating sales today together with lack of aggressive buying led to sharp further declines in price. An estimate that the 1923 domestic crop would total only 7,000,000 bushels, less than last year's harvest, had considerable bearish effect. The close was heavy, 2 1/2 cents to 4 1/2 cents net lower, with July 109 7/8 to $1.10 and September $1.09 1/2 to $1.09 3/4.

Time to Face the Facts

"So much has been said against the use of patent medicines that I have had a strong prejudice against them. But after four years doctoring with six different doctors, without results, for acute indigestion, gastritis, constipation, appendicitis and other ailments I was said to possess, I was encouraged to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, seeing what it had done for a friend similarly afflicted. I also was entirely relieved of my trouble, and am sure this medicine will do all and more than is claimed for it." Walker Whiteside and Sydney Shields in "The Hindu."

Walker Whiteside's engagement at the Auditorium next Wednesday evening promises to be most successful, for the fame of this actor, and the fact that he has an extremely successful play in "The Hindu" is a magnet of tremendous power. Bismarck play patrons will recall Walker Whiteside's previous starring successes such as "The Master Ballantrac," "The Typhoon" and "The Melting Pot," all of which have been presented in this city. "The Hindu" is said to combine all of the elements which go to please; mystery and merriment; romance and adventure; thrills and exciting episodes, and a superb acting company to interpret the play. Walker Whiteside will be seen as Prince Tamar, a fascinating young Maharajah, in whose sumptuous palace in far off, Somnouth, weird and bizarre events transpire. International plotters, native and white, plan to involve all India in a mad revolt, for financial gain merely. This desperate scheme is upset by a brave oteric of Scotland Yard detectives from London, who, led by an intrepid young girl, beard Prince Tamar in his wonderful palace, and eventually capture the entire band of miscreants who would involve India in a bloody uprising. Miss Sydney Shields, who has been Walker Whiteside's leading lady for four years, will be seen as the heroine, a part which she is well qualified to enact. Other players in the "Hindu" are Harold Vosburgh, Harold De Becker, Grant Sherman, Santos Robert, Eldon Eaton Elinor John, Maude Shaw Grant and the Hindu singers and musicians, Pabumba and Deslyva.

Housewives of State All Spend Money on Hand

for those things she deems the most necessary, and of course has to stop when the money is used up. A new summer dress may seem to be a most desirable thing to purchase one day, but a week later the housewife may mind herself in a difficult position to finance a sack of flour.

"To make efficient business of the problem of household management, the housewife should work out a budget, keep household accounts, and conform as closely to the budget as possible. This will not give them any more money to spend, but it will result in the most efficient spending of the money they have available, and so in the long run will give them more for their money.

WILL APPEAR HERE IN MYSTERY PLAY

Walker Whiteside and Sydney Shields in "The Hindu."

Walker Whiteside's engagement at the Auditorium next Wednesday evening promises to be most successful, for the fame of this actor, and the fact that he has an extremely successful play in "The Hindu" is a magnet of tremendous power. Bismarck play patrons will recall Walker Whiteside's previous starring successes such as "The Master Ballerina," "The Typhoon" and "The Melting Pot," all of which have been presented in this city. "The Hindu" is said to combine all of the elements which go to please: mystery and merriment; romance and adventure; thrills and exciting episodes, and a superb acting company to interpret the play. Walker Whiteside will be seen as Prince Tamar, a fascinating young Maharajah, in whose sumptuous palace in far off, Somnouth, weird and bizarre events transpire. International plotters, native and white, plan to involve all India in a mad revolt, for financial gain merely. This desperate scheme is upset by a brave soldier of Scotland Yard detectives from London, who, led by an intrepid young girl, beard Prince Tamar in his wonderful palace, and eventually capture the entire band of miscreants who would involve India in a bloody uprising. Miss Sydney Shields, who has been Walker Whiteside's leading lady for four years, will be seen, as the heroine, a part which she is well qualified to enact. Other players in the "Hindu" are Harold Vosburgh, Harold De Becker, Grant Sherman, Santos Robert, Eldon Eaton, Elinor John, Maude Shaw Grant and the Hindu singers and musicians, Pabumba and Deslyva.

THE first car has been shipped and these wonderful berries will be at your grocer's almost any day. Tell him to let you know when they arrive.

Thousands wait for Hood River Strawberries about this time every year. There's no other variety of strawberry like them—they have no equal for delightfully tart flavor, rich red color, sound, juicy body.

They are on the market for only a short time. Serve them some way every day. They are delicious with cream and sugar. Plan to preserve an extra supply, using Ball Mason jars.

Housewives of State All Spend Money on Hand

Fargo, June 1.—"The average home manager receives her allowance, spends it until it is gone, then doesn't buy anything until she receives more money," declares Ruth Kennedy, household management expert of the Home Demonstration department at the North Dakota Agricultural college.

"Whether her allowance is $15 or $150 a week, she spends the money for these things she deems the most necessary, and of course has to stop when the money is used up. A new summer dress may seem to be a most desirable thing to purchase one day, but a week later the housewife may find herself in a difficult position to finance a sack of flour.

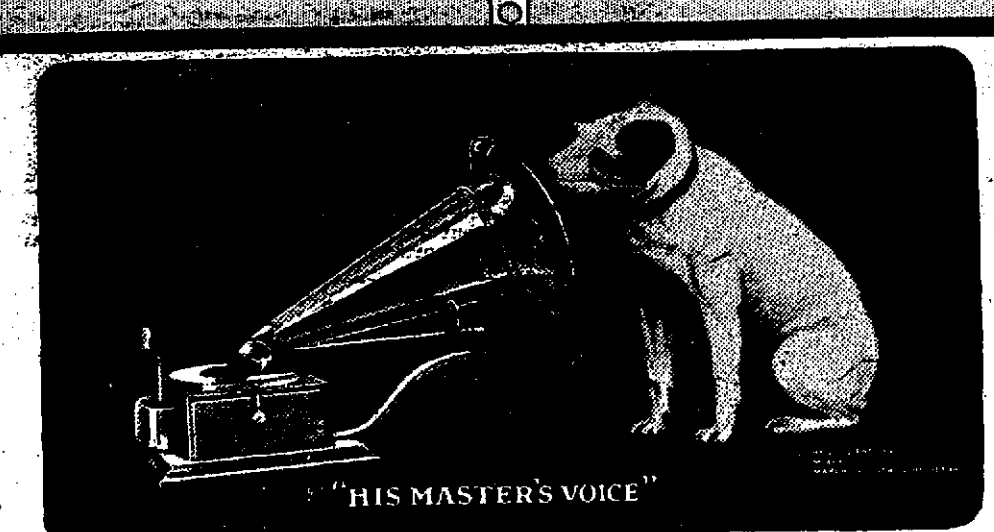

"To make efficient business of the problem of household management, the housewife should work out a budget, keep household accounts, and conform as closely to the budget as possible. This will not give them any more money to spend, but it will result in the most efficient spending of the money they have available, and so in the long run will give them more for their money.

SHANLEYS ARE AGAIN VICTORS IN JAMESTOWN

Bismarck Not Only Wins Game But Obtains Services of Star Catcher

Jamestown, N. D., June 1.—The Shanleys from Bismarck were feeling pretty good today, after leaving Bismarck with four straight losses to Minot.

The Bismarck baseball club not only won its third straight game from the Jinkins, but Manager Shanley got release from St. Paul of Dan Douglas, star catcher of the Dakota league last year.

The ten inning victory of Bismarck was hardly less important than Douglas's acquisition. The little catcher was the life of the Mitchell team, champions of the Dakota league last year, and was bought by St. Paul. He played in two games last week for St. Paul, and it was only after considerable insistence on the part of the Bismarck management that Douglas was released under a 24-hour option of release. St. Paul already had three veteran catchers, but the club didn't want to lose Douglas entirely.

Newt Randall joined the Bismarck club today and will play right field in today's game, with Boardman playing first.

A home run by Reider, Bismarck center-fielder, helped give the Shanleys the game yesterday evening by a 5 to 4 score. Jamestown got some consolation in the fact that Reider was lucky on the hit for it under a line of autos and he could have made a couple of more circuits before it was found. Catcher Noll got the single in the tenth inning which drove in Bismarck's game. Jamestown also had scored in the tenth after Chenoweth hit a two-bagger.

Hettman started to pitch for Bismarck but was only in long enough for Jamestown to get a couple of hits when Tom Jennings was substituted. Bismarck 200 010 000 2-5 3 3. Jamestown 201 000 000 1-4 8 3.

Batteries: Hettman, Jennings and Noll; Repola and Croake.

MINOT WINS AGAIN
Minot, N. D., May 31.—Minot defeated Carrington-New Rockford 8 to 1, in the third game of the series here today. The locals knocked Thompson out in the second. With a good lead, Leifer, pitching for the locals, was taken out for Hester.

PAT MORAN AND HIS REDS NOW GOING STRONG

After a Bad Split They Now Are Bidding For The First Division

Chicago, June 1.—Now comes Pat Moran and his Cincinnati Reds. The Reds aren't exactly emulating the Brooklyn Robins in their own league or the Philadelphia Athletics in the Americans since Cincinnati was pre-season rated as a likely combination. But having begun woefully the present burst of the Reds is notable.

Bad weather aided other teams in beating down the Reds, but within the last week or so they seem to have found themselves. In winning their third straight victory over Chicago yesterday, 3 to 2, Cincinnati advanced to fifth place, two points within St. Louis' insecure hold in the first division.

Brooklyn kept on its winning form, trouncing Boston 5 to 2, and keeping ahead of the St. Louis Cardinals who met Pittsburgh and won, 4 to 1. The Brooklyn contest was notable for Murdard's efforts against Zack Wheat, leading National League batsman, who failed to hit for the first time in 21 games.

Jack Bentley, whose ineffectiveness times has caused New York fans to question the wisdom of paying $65,000 for him to Baltimore, won his third game out of seven yesterday, beating the Philadelphia Quakers 4 to 1.

The Philadelphia Athletics were able but because of their double defeat on Memorial Day they slipped into third place while Cleveland was trimming Chicago, 5 to 4, through the timely hitting of Manager Tris Speaker.

The New York Yankees also took advantage of the Athletics' idleness and advanced further into the lead trouncing Boston 8 to 1. Wallie Pipp hit safely in his 21st consecutive game. Detroit was unable to make up lost ground, losing to St. Louis 8 to 3, because of poor pitching.

Repola, just added to Whiting's string from New York Mills, Minnesota, pitched a good game all the way through and was supported much better than Finch was in the series opening here.

GIBBONS SEES ARENA IN WHICH HE WILL FIGHT

LEWIS AND CLARK ONCE CAMPED WHERE DEMPSEY IS NOW TRAINING FOR FIGHT

BY BILL BREITENSTEIN

NEA Service Writer
Great Falls, Mont., June 1.—Spirits of Lewis and Clark haunt Jack Dempsey's training quarters.

Shades of the gallant explorers, who blazed the white man's trail through the great northwest, hover over the spot where the champion is pummeling his sparring partners.

Here 119 years ago these daring pioneers made camp. Just a mile above on the banks of the swiftly rushing Missouri, where the Cascade county poor-farm stands today, they smoked the pipe of peace with hostile Indians.

Grizzlies were encountered on a little island half a mile from the scene of Dempsey's camp on July 4, 1804. So Lewis and Clark called the island "White Bear." That has been its name ever since.

But there is even more history behind the present "Dempseyville."

A century after Lewis and Clark had come, Old Brewer Volk, known for miles around, was there brewing his hops. It was his grandson, Charley Volk who closed the deal with Dempsey for the property.

"The old brewery burned down some years ago. A roadhouse sprang up in its place. The old orchestral piano still was in the living room when Jack moved in.

Now the inner dance hall is a rubbing room and bath. The outer hall is a gymnasium.

With Jack are his two brothers John and Bernard.

Kinks o' the Links

Two players in match game are using the same kind of ball. One player has marked his ball slightly so as to be able to distinguish between the two. On reaching the green, players are in doubt as to their balls. Is it permissible for a player to life one of the balls in order to search for the mark that he had placed on his ball?

Great care should always be used in playing the proper ball. It is impossible to determine which is your ball without picking up one of the two, you must ask your companion for his consent before picking up the ball, and must replace it carefully where it lay.

If a player is in doubt as to the direction of play may he ask advice?

A player has the right to ask for advice if in doubt as to the direction of play. His caddy is usually able to give the proper direction. In big matches, players are very particular about their caddies and often talk over shots with them before playing.

THRILL!
Came When Dan Passed
By Bob Dorman
NEA Service Writer
Harve, Mont., June 1.—I asked Tom Gibbons what he thought was the most thrilling moment he had ever experienced in the ring. Tom grinned as he replied: "That's easy. It was a fight with Dan O'Dowd at New Orleans a year ago last November.

"Six rounds had gone by. In every round I had floored Dan—in some of them several times. But he bounced off the floor each time as if he were made of rubber.

"I became more and more puzzled. I couldn't understand it. Every time he went down, I'd lean over and watch him to see if he was out.

"Finally, in the sixth, I caught him on the point of the chin with a straight right, and down he went to stay down.

"And believe me I got a thrill when I saw he wasn't coming up

FINANCIERS EXPRESS FAITH IN THIS STATE

General Sentiment of Situation Is Reassuring of Wells Dickey Organ Believes

Fargo, June 1.—That the financial world has complete confidence in North Dakota is indicated in views expressed in publications issued by large financial institutions of the country. The sentiment that prevails generally in the business world towards North Dakota is expressed by articles that appeared recently in the news letter issued by the Wells Dickey Co. of Minneapolis. One says in part:

"It was rather reassuring to receive today a fine order for North Dakota municipals from one of North Dakota's own banks—convincing evidence that the old state is coming back strong.

"It is also interesting to know that the March tax collections in North Dakota, were about $1,000,000 heavier and that the state treasurer's balance is about $1,500,000 in excess of what it was last year. There is no question about the ultimate return of the farming communities of the northwest, which have suffered so severely the past few years."

NEW CLUE TO HALL MURDER IS UNCOVERED

Story Told by Neighbor Woman of Pair's Murder Held Disproved

New Brunswick, N. J., June 1.—County officials have unearthed a new suspect in their investigation into the murder last September of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and his choir leader, Mrs. Eleanor Mills, is was learned today.

Officials admitted that a man previously questioned and who had presented an alibi now was the subject of investigation. It was said his story, which earlier had caused his elimination as a suspect, had been found to be untrue in essential details.

Recent investigation, officials said, had further convinced them that the story of Mrs. James Gibson, a neighbor of the Rev. Hall, was without foundation. Mrs. Gibson maintained she had seen a man and a woman unidentified by her commit the murder.

STATE RETIRES OLD BONDS

Eighty-five thousand dollars of bonds of the state of North Dakota, due in 1925, will be retired this week by State Treasurer John Steen. The bonds, part of a total issue of $125,000 are held by the board of university and school lands.

The payment of this obligation will release $85,000 for the board to invest in bonds and farm loans, Land Commissioner C. R. Kositzky. The timely payment, he said, would permit payments on bonds of school districts purchased and held pending payment.

The boards, in a meeting yesterday, bought $28,500 of 5 per cent farm loans with funds of the Agricultural college.

LEAGUE FAILS TO FILE FOR REFERENDUM

tion is covered in the suspended laws. This would leave a situation where it would be impossible to vote a straight ticket, that the provision of law providing for the placing of an "X" at the top of the ballot is repealed, and would give the county auditors powers to change the ballot as they thought best.

The view is taken by some of the law that if a special election is not called to be held in not less than 100 nor more than 130 days after the end of the legislature the election on referred matters would be at the time specified in the petitions.

STATE'S AUTO BODY PLAN TO GET TOURISTS

Fargo, June 1.—Definite plans for entertaining the thousands of automobile tourists who are expected to pour through North Dakota on route to Shelby, Mont., for the Dempsey-Gibbons fight July 4, will be the first big objective of the recently organized North Dakota Automobile association, it was announced by F. W. McRoberts, secretary treasurer.

Permanent headquarters has already been established at the Fargo Commercial club and a tourists information bureau is located there. Other information bureaus will be established at Grand Forks, Devils Lake, Minot, Williston, Mandan, Bismarck, Valley City, Jamestown, and other points throughout the state as fast as funds will permit.

"In order to be able to give correct information to tourists going through North Dakota during the next few months, all towns in the state having tourists camps are requested to advise the North Dakota Automobile association," said Mr. McRoberts.

CONDITION OF CROPS GOOD

Lower Quotations From Liverpool Also Bearish Factor

Chicago, June 1.—The crop conditions generally auspicious for growth the wheat market underwent a material decline today in early dealings. Lower quotations at Liverpool acted as a contributing bearish factor. On the other hand although announcement that cotton houses were to report to the Secretary of Agriculture accounts long or short one million bushels or more was construed in some quarters as implying that accounts of less than one million bushels are too small to be objectionable. Such views failed, apparently, to have any bullish result. Opening prices which ranged from unchanged figures to 1-2 cent lower with July $1.13-1-2 to $1.13-7-8 and September $1.13 to $1.13-1-4 were followed by a decided drop all around.

Subsequently liquidating sales today together with lack of aggressive buying led to sharp further declines in price. An estimate that the 1923 domestic crop would total only 7,000,000 bushels, less than last year's harvest, had considerable bearish effect. The close was heavy, 2-3 cents to 4-5 cents net lower, with July 109 3/4 to $1.10 and September $1.09 3/4 to $1.09 1/2.

Time to Face the Facts

"So much has been said against the use of patent medicines that I have had a strong prejudice against them. But after four years doctoring with six different doctors, without results, for acute indigestion, gastritis, constipation, appendicitis and other ailments I was said to possess, I was encouraged to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, seeing what it had done for a friend similarly afflicted. I also was a friendly relieved of my trouble, and am sure this medicine will do all and more than is claimed for it. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

LAST BUT NOT LEAST

Members of the City Commission and the special citizens' committee have been putting in some strenuous hours attempting to secure the best solution of Bismarck's water problem. Apparently some progress has been made. Bids have been received of a highly competitive nature and well within the estimates made by the city engineer.

So far so good. But a very important duty of the City Commission lies ahead. The provision for supplying the motive power to drive the pumps and deliver the water to the consumers is the final issue to be faced, not because the commission deems it of less importance than the rest but because the contracts are being taken up in their numerical order.

Public sentiment is practically unanimous in Bismarck to sever relations with any private utility in the delivery of water and place that control wholly within the hands of the City Commission. The cost of power is a material factor in the cost of water and the few thousands more necessary for the installation of the oil engines is insignificant in view of the material saving made.

Then too every city must have more than one supply of power for its pumps. If oil engines are installed there will be at least two sources of power to draw upon in an emergency. It has been found advisable to provide auxiliary gas engines so that at no time could the city be without power to drive the pumps.

If the city owns its water system and then must enter into a contract with a private utility to pump the water at any rate the state commission might see fit to fix, then Bismarck would be little better off for rate making would still be in the hands of the state and the possibility of expensive litigation always present.

The vast saving to be made in the use of the oil engines for power to pump the water and light the city streets and the public buildings of Bismarck is too great a consideration to be passed over lightly.

REINDEER MEAT

Will a large part of the meat supply of our descendants come from Alaska and northern Canada—meat of the reindeer and caribou? Stefansson, the arctic explorer, thinks so. Our government is getting around to a similar idea. It predicts, in a bulletin, that reindeer meat will soon have a large sale and be available in many parts of America.

In Alaska alone there are more than 100 herds of reindeer, running wild, varying in size from 400 to 8000 head a herd. Plenty of free grazing land for them up there. Still more in Canada's Yukon and the northwest territories stretching eastward to Hudson Bay.

Reindeer and caribou ranching is springing up as a new industry, growing swiftly.

The first reindeer were imported into Alaska about 40 years ago by the far-sighted Rev. Dr. Sheldon Jackson. It took him 20 years to import 1280 head. From these sprang the great herds of today.

Wilfred Grenfell, the author and medical missionary, is introducing reindeer into Labrador. She writes us that a reindeer weighs more than two sheep, and that $600,000 worth of reindeer meat will reach Chicago this year from Nome, Alaska.

Some time ago the chief of the U. S. Biological Survey told a Congressional committee that in 20 years Alaska will be exporting 1,250,000 reindeer carcasses a year.

The purpose of building up this industry, of course, is to provide cheaper meat. But transportation is a big obstacle. For instance, the reindeer that will be delivered in Chicago for $600,000 this year will sell for $370,000 when they leave Nome. The difference, $230,000 is transportation cost.

Another handicap is that reindeer meat has a gamey flavor, like venison, which few people like. At least, it's a cultivated taste.

We cannot dodge the high cost of food by raising it at the far corners of the earth where land and labor are cheap. Reindeer and caribou meat may be cheaper than beef, pork or lamb now, but as soon as the demand is created up will go the price. Profiteers will see to that. Like leeches, they will follow the meat industry north, the same as they now follow the gold rushes to exact extortionate tribute.

The day is coming, however, when our rapidly increasing population, when America will need the reindeer and caribou of the far north as well as all the meat animals we can raise at home. Therefore, the reindeer and caribou will not enter into genuine competition with our domestic hogs, steers and sheep. All will have a full market.

We're developing a complicated civilization when we have to go toward the north pole for enough to eat.

GOLD RUSH VIA AIR

Prospectors in airplanes will rush into Labrador to open up a new gold field. In Dollard, western Canada, the red-coated mounted police think bandits who robbed a bank arrived and departed by airplane.

A new air passenger service is announced: Zeppelins will operate between Boston, New York, New Orleans and San Diego.

Oh, yes, these flying machines "never will amount to much," as the stagecoach driver said of the steam railroad when he heard a train had made its first trip.

CANCER

One in every 10 of the world's population is infected with some form of cancer, says the specialist, Dr. Frank Smithies. Don't worry about it. We're also infected with nearly every disease under the sun, in mild form, but our blood fights and holds down the invaders—as long as we keep our general health good, our blood rich and in fighting condition.

Cancer usually is due to "chronic irritation." That's as plain as the doctors get in their explanations. They may not all agree, but many cancers are the result of worry.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

Everybody had the best time at the Ragdies' ball.

The bull-frog orchestra with the wood-pecker drumming the drums, played fine dance music.

The Twins in their magic shoes thought they had never had such a good time.

The Moon Man grinned, the stars winked, and the clouds stood still to watch. Never had the meadow been so gay.

Suddenly Rag Tag, the Raggy pointed overhead as a hole in the old chestnut tree. "Look!" he whispered. "There's a bird's sharp bill sticking out! Someone was too lazy to come to our party."

"The very idea!" cried Mister Tatters indignantly. "I do believe it is Mister Flicker, for that's where he lives."

"I've got an idea," said Rag Tag. "Let's climb the tree and push him inside and plaster the hole up with mud. Then he can't get out until we're ready to let him. It may teach him a lesson in manners."

"Good," laughed Mister Tatters. "Nancy and Nick, you do it, will you?"

The Twins didn't want to very much, but after all it was only a joke and wouldn't last long, so up they climbed in their magic shoes.

Pretty soon they slid down. "It's all done," they said to Mister Tatters.

Suddenly Narry cried. "Why there's Mister Flicker over there!"

"Then who can the other be?" Please go at once and look," said the Raggy Man.

So up went the Twins again and dug out the mud.

There was Mr. Pim Pim, the Brownie Man.

"I got so tired, I climbed up here for forty winks," he yawned, "and someone shut me in." "Oh, we're so sorry," apologized Nancy. "But we thought the peak on your cap was Mister Flicker's sharp bill."

"I'll forgive you this time," smiled the kind little Brownie man. (To Be Continued) (Copyright, 1923, NEA Service Inc.)

THE PRESS AGENT

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO LESLIE PRESCOTT, CARE OF THE SECRET DRAWER.

I sometimes wonder if the gay little Marquise whose love letters used to lie in this receptacle, ever found one that made her very sad. Some way the ones that I place here seem only to record an unhappiness of some kind.

I can write my joys and my pleasures to my friends, but it's only to you, Leslie Prescott, that I may tell the things that bother me, that grieve me.

For you see I have perhaps a peculiar idea that no woman should find fault with her husband to any other person. Not even to her mother should she voice the slightest criticism of him unless things become so bad that she finds she cannot live with him any more.

Dear old Jack has not reached that place by many a mile but it does take a long time to get to the place of understanding. I love him much and I know that he loves me, but Love is a jealous little god and he just won't be made to go in with the other Lares and Penates. He wants it all or nothing.

When Jack is away from me, he is nothing else but perfect and I dream of him as he is at times when he comes in with that gay, laugh of him and waltzes me around the room and kisses me on my eyes, my lips and my throat and tells me I am the sweetest thing he has ever known.

I always think he is going to be like this when he comes home and I am so disappointed when he comes in looking glum and unhappy. Then I know that things have gone wrong at the office and I don't dare ask him about it because I know he doesn't want me to talk to him about his business.

I wonder why it is that men do not like to talk over their business with their wives. No one would be as interested as a man's wife would be in his business and yet they will tell intimate details of their business and their life to some other woman and talk shop by the hour with their stenographer and their secretaries.

Jack did not look cross at all the other night when Mabel Locke congratulated him on his latest advertising campaign which is now spread all over the papers and magazines of the country. The first night I saw it I was so happy about it and tried to tell him so.

But he said impatiently, "Oh, let's don't talk about it. I'm so tired. I never want to hear of the thing again. It's done for. I start something new tomorrow."

Some way the every day cares and responsibilities of married life push all the sentiment out of it. Jack thinks I am awful sentimental but to me a man or woman without sentiment is a man or woman without an ideal—without sympathy—without soul and I would almost give up Jack's love rather than the sentimental part of my nature. It makes me able to appreciate to the fullest all that his love brings into my life.

This isn't such an unhappy letter after all. I started to write something very different and yet I don't.

A THOUGHT

Before I was afflicted I went astray; but now have I kept thy word. It is good for me that I have been thus afflicted; that I might learn thy statutes.—Ps. 119:97, 71.

My advice is to consult the lives of other men, and to look at the glass, and from thence fetch examples for our imitation.—Terece.

Long ago Cecil B. De Mille made a promise to the screen public. He promised that each succeeding production bearing his name should excel its predecessor in quality and that each of his photoplays should differ vitally in theme from its fellows. He has kept that promise. Each succeeding production has marked a distinct advance in the art of photoplay making, and each in turn has presented a different phase of life—its thoughts, emotions and reactions.

In "Foot's Paradise" the producer's Paramount production, which comes to the Eltinge theatre today and tomorrow, Friday and Saturday, Mr. De Mille presents a photoplay that is unique in theme, cast and setting from any of his previous productions. Yet despite this wide divergence from other photoplays it has the note of universal appeal which is characteristic of all his screen efforts. Dorothy Dalton, Conrad Nagel and Mildred Harris head a strong cast.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Calvin Gray is living in Dallas at the most exclusive hotel. He declares himself the enemy of Colonel Henry Nelson, son of Bell Nelson banker. Gray falls in love with Barbara Parker, daughter of Tom Parker. Gus Briskow, friend of Gray, takes Ma Briskow and Allegheny, the daughter, to the mountains. Gray visits them and Ma shows him where she goes to visit with fairies. Ma pretends she is a princess and Gray declares himself a duke. A message comes with information that Bud Briskow, the son, has run away from school. Gray offers to follow and bring the boy home.

Reluctantly Tom reloaded his weapon and thrust it back into its shoulder holster, regretfully he murmured "Doggone! We never have any more fun." He turned toward the door.

"Where are you going, dad?" "I got to see—What is it?" "Bob" hesitated. "I wish you'd stay here. I think Mr. Gray arrived this morning, and I expect him in."

Tom decided that he had made Judge Holloran wait long enough. He should have been in the old school's king row by this time. So he said, briskly "Wish I could, son, but I got to see a man."

"Mr. Gray was here several times before he went away but you were always out." When her father showed no inclination to tarry Barbara spoke with more impatience than she had ever used toward him. "I want him to meet you, dad, for he has come back on purpose to take up that Jackson case. If I don't see him by this time, it seems to me you could afford to sacrifice an hour to it, just this once. That checker game can wait."

Tom was offended, and being a stubborn man, he bowed his back. "Tell him to wait," he said curtly. "I'll get around to it soon as I can."

Without further comment the old man pulled his gray wide-awake lower over his eyes and limped out of the room. But he did not go to Judge Holloran's office; he was too sore to risk further offense at the hands of one who took malicious delight in antagonizing him, so he walked the streets. Perhaps he had permitted the girl to do more than her share of the work, and hence her inclination to take all the credit for their joint success was only natural. But it was time to change all that; time to turn a big deal without her assistance. That was the thing to do, handle the Jackson lease in his own way and turn it over for a price far in excess of seventy-five thousand dollars. Such things were being done—Tom did not know just how, but he could easily find out—and there were several thousand dollars in the bank to the firm's account.

A bus was about to leave, so Tom clambered in.

Little prickles ran over "Bob"; she felt her whole body galvanize when she saw Gray coming.

He entered, as she knew he would enter with the suggestion of having been blown thither upon the breast of a gale. He was electric; he throbbed with energy; he was bursting with enthusiasm, and his delight at seeing her was obvious.

"I told Jackson you'd be out to look at the well and the books to-day," "Bob" was saying. "He won't wait an hour longer."

"Splendid! I came the instant you telegraphed—dropped everything, in fact. Some of my men are waiting to see me but I haven't even notified them of my arrival. Important business here. They can wait."

Gray laughed gladly. "Jee! How becoming that hat is. I hired the best-looking car I could find, and it will be here in a minute. I told myself I had earned a day with you, and I wouldn't spoil it by permitting you to drive. I've so much to talk to you about—business of all sorts—that I scarcely know where to begin."

Now "Bob" had expected to drive to the Northwest Extension with Gray; nothing else had been in her mind; her field clothing was even laid out really for a quick change, but a sudden contrariness took hold of her; she experienced a shyness that she could not explain.

"Oh, I'm sorry! I can't go. I simply can't," she declared.

He was so obviously disappointed that her determination gained strength; she was surprised at her own mendacity when she explained the utter impossibility of leaving the office, and told a circumstantial fib about a title that had to be closed with people from out of town.

In order finally to get him away before she could change her mind, she promised to hurry through her affairs and then drive out to bring him home.

Gray drove directly to the lease he had come to examine, and was disappointed to learn that the owner had just left. This was annoying; "Bob" had assured him that he was expected. Inquiry elicited from the surly individual in charge no more than the reluctant admission that Jackson had been called to the nearest telephone, but he would be back sometime.

The first reindeer were imported into Alaska about 40 years ago by the far-sighted Rev. Dr. Sheldon Jackson. It took him 20 years to import 1280 head. From these sprang the great herds of today.

Wilfred Grenfell, the author and medical missionary, is introducing reindeer into Labrador. She writes us that a reindeer weighs more than two sheep, and that $600,000 worth of reindeer meat will reach Chicago this year from Nome, Alaska.

Some time ago the chief of the U. S. Biological Survey told a Congressional committee that in 20 years Alaska will be exporting 1,250,000 reindeer carcasses a year.

The purpose of building up this industry, of course, is to provide cheaper meat. But transportation is a big obstacle. For instance, the reindeer that will be delivered in Chicago for $600,000 this year will sell for $370,000 when they leave Nome. The difference, $230,000 is transportation cost.

Another handicap is that reindeer meat has a gamey flavor, like venison, which few people like. At least, it's a cultivated taste.

We cannot dodge the high cost of food by raising it at the far corners of the earth where land and labor are cheap. Reindeer and caribou meat may be cheaper than beef, pork or lamb now, but as soon as the demand is created up will go the price. Profiteers will see to that. Like leeches, they will follow the meat industry north, the same as they now follow the gold rushes to exact extortionate tribute.

The day is coming, however, with our rapidly increasing population, when America will need the reindeer and caribou of the far north as well as all the meat animals we can raise at home. Therefore, the reindeer and caribou will not enter into genuine competition with our domestic hogs, steers and sheep. All will have a full market.

We're developing a complicated civilization when we have to go toward the north pole for enough to eat.

CANCER

One in every 10 of the world's population is infected with some form of cancer, says the specialist, Dr. Frank Smithies. Don't worry about it. We're also infected with nearly every disease under the sun, in mild form, but our blood fights and holds down the invaders—as long as we keep our general health good, our blood rich and in fighting condition. Cancer usually is due to "chronic irritation." That's as the doctors get in their explanations. They may not all agree, but many cancers are the direct result of worry.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

Everybody had the best time at the Raggedy Ball.

The bull-frog orchestra with the wood pecker drumming the drums, played fine dance music.

The Twins, in their magic shoes, thought they had never had such a good time.

The Moon Man grinned, the stars winked, and the clouds stood still to watch. Never had the meadow been so gay.

Suddenly Rag Tag, the Raggedy pointed overhead to a hole in the old chestnut tree "Look!" he whispered. "There's a bird's sharp bill sticking out! Someone was too lazy to come to our party."

"The very idea!" cried Mister Tatters indignantly. "I do believe it is Mister Flicker, for that's where he lives."

"I've got an idea," said Rag Tag. "Let's climb the tree and push him inside and plaster the hole up with mud. Then he can't get out until we're ready to let him. It may teach him a lesson in manners."

"Good," laughed Mister Tatters. "Nancy and Nick, you do it, will you?"

The Twins didn't want to very much, but after all it was only a joke and wouldn't last long, so up they climbed in their magic shoes.

Pretty soon they slid down. "It's all done," they said to Mister Tatters.

Suddenly Nanny cried "Why there's Mister Flicker over there!"

"Then who can the other be? Please go at once and look," said the Raggedy Man.

So up went the Twins again and dug out the mud.

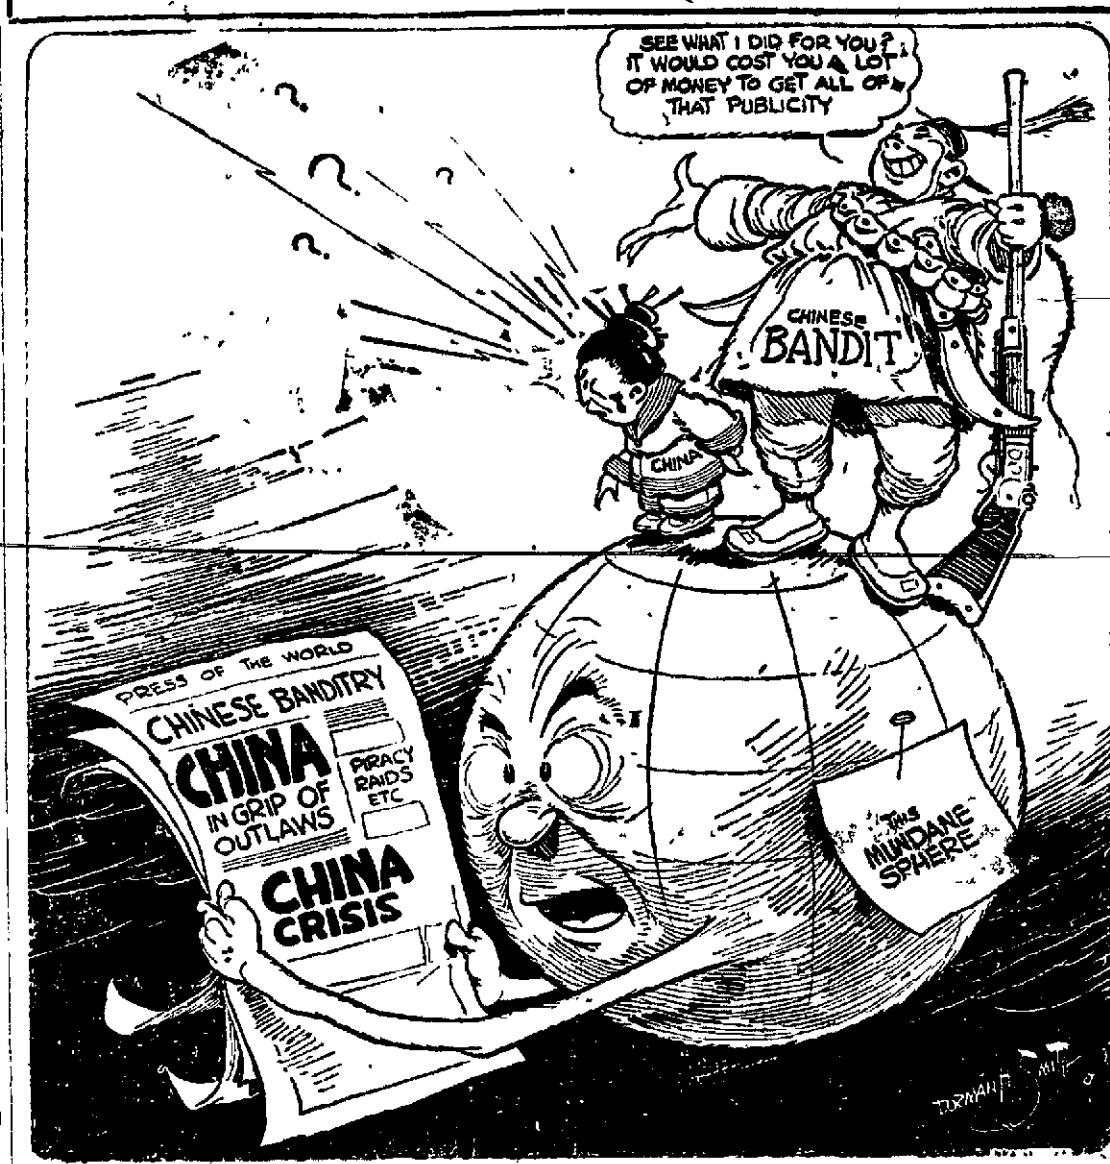

There was Mr. Pim Pim, the Brownie Man.

"I got so tired, I climbed up here for forty winks," he yawned, "and someone shut me in."

"Oh, we're so sorry," apologized Nancy. "But we thought the peak on your cap was Mister Flicker's sharp bill."

"I'll forgive you this time," smiled the kind little Brownie man. (To Be Continued.) (Copyright, 1923, NEA Service Inc.)

THE PRESS AGENT

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO LESLIE PRESCOTT, CARE OF THE SECRET DRAWER.

I sometimes wonder if the gay little Marquise whose love letters used to lie in this receptacle, ever found one that made her very sad. Some way the ones that I place here seem only to record an unhappiness of some kind.

I can write my joys and my pleasures to my friends, but if it is only to you, Leslie Prescott, that I may tell the things that bother me, that grieve me.

For you see I have perhaps a peculiar idea that no woman should find fault with her husband to any other person. Not even to her mother should she voice the slightest criticism of him unless things become so bad that she finds she cannot live with him any more.

Dear old Jack has not reached that place by many a mile but it does take a long time to get to the place of understanding I love him much and I know that he loves me, but Love is a jealous little god, and he just won't be made to go in with the other Lares and Penates. He wants it all or nothing.

When Jack is away from me, he is nothing else but perfect and I dream of him as he is at times when he comes in with that gay, laugh of his and waits me around the room and kisses me on my eyes, my lips and my throat and tells me I am the sweetest thing he has ever known.

I always think he is going to be like this when he comes home and I am so disappointed when he comes in looking glum and unhappy. Then I know that things have gone wrong at the office and I don't dare ask him about it because I know he doesn't want me to talk to him about his business.

I wonder why it is that men do not like to talk over their business with their wives. No one would be so interested as a man's wife would be in his business and yet they will tell intimate details of their business, and their life to some other woman and talk shop by the hour with their stenographer and their secretaries.

Jack did not look cross at all the other night when Mabel Locke congratulated him on his latest advertising campaign which is now spread all over the papers and magazines of the country. The first night I saw it I was so happy about it and tried to tell him so.

But he said impatiently, "Oh, Leslie, don't talk about it. I'm so tired I never want to hear of the thing again. It's done for, I start something new tomorrow."

Some way the every day cares and responsibilities of married life push all the sentiment out of it. Jack thinks I am awful sentimental but to me a man or woman without sentiment is a man or woman without soul and I would almost give up Jack's love rather than the sentimental part of my nature. It makes me able to appreciate to the fullest all that his love brings into my life.

This isn't such an unhappy letter after all. I started to write something very different and yet I don't.

A THOUGHT

Before I was afflicted I went astray; but now have I kept thy word. It is good for me that I have been afflicted; that I might learn thy statutes.—Ps. 119:97, 11.

My advice is to consult the lives of other men. If we would be looking glass, and from thence fetch examples for our imitation.—Terence.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Calvin Gray is living in Dallas at the most exclusive hotel. He declares himself the enemy of Colonel Henry Nelson, son of Bell Nelson banker Gray falls in love with Barbara Parker, daughter of Tom Parker. Gus Briskow, friend of Gray, takes Ma Briskow and Allegheny, the daughter, to the mountains. Gray visits them and Ma shows him where she goes to visit with fairies. Ma pretends she is a princess and Gray declares himself a duke. A message comes with information that Bud Briskow, the son, has run away from school. Gray offers to follow and bring the boy home.

"Where are you going, dad?" "I got to see—What is it?" "Bob" hesitated. "I wish you'd stay here. I think Mr Gray arrived this morning, and I expect him in."

Tom decided that he had made Judge Holloran wait long enough. He should have been in the old saloon the king row by this time. So he said, briskly, "What a son of a gun."

"Mr. Gray was here several times before he went away but you were always out." When her father showed no inclination to tarry Barbara spoke with more impatience than she had ever used toward him. "I want him to meet you, dad, for he has come back on purpose to take up with that Jackson well. If I devote all my time to business, it seems to me you could afford to sacrifice an hour to it, just this once. That checker game can wait."

Tom was offended, and being a stubborn man, he bowed his back. "Tell him to wait," he said curtly. "I'll get around to it soon as I can."

Without further comment the old man pulled his gray wide-awake lower over his eyes and jumped out of the room. But he did not go to Judge Holloran's office, he was too sore to risk further offense at the hands of one who took malicious delight in antagonizing him, so he walked the streets. Perhaps he had permitted the girl to do more than her share of the work, and hence her inclination to take all the credit for their joint success was only natural, but it was time to change all that; time to turn a big deal without her assistance. That was the thing to do, handle the Jackson lease in his own way and turn it over for a price far in excess of seventy-five thousand dollars. Such things were being done—Tom did not know just how, but he could easily figure the price, there were several thousand dollars in the bank to the firm's account.

A bus was about to leave, so Tom clambered in. Little prickles ran over "Bob"; she felt her whole body glimmer when she saw Gray coming.

He entered, as she knew he would enter with the suggestion of having been blown thither upon the breast of a gale. He was electric, he throbbed with energy; he was bursting with enthusiasm, and his delight at seeing her was boyish.

"Hello, Jackson, you'd be out to look at the well and the books today," "Bob" was saying. "He won't wait an hour longer."

"Splendid! I came the instant you telegraphed—dropped everything, in fact. Some of my men are waiting to see me but I haven't even noticed them of my arrival. Important business, too; nevertheless, I hurried right here. They can wait."

Gray laughed gleefully. "Jove! How becoming that hat is! I hired the best tailor in the city to make it, and it will be here in a minute. I'll tell myself I had earned a day with you, and I wouldn't spoil it by permitting you to drive. I've so much to talk to you about—business of all sorts—that I scarcely know where to begin."

Now "Bob" had expected to drive to the Northwest Extension with Gray; nothing else had been in her mind. Her field clothing was even laid out ready for a quick change, but in sudden contrariness took hold of her; she experienced a self-persecution that she could not explain.

"Oh, I'm sorry I can't go. I simply can't," she declared.

He was so obviously disappointed that her determination gained strength; she was surprised at her own mendacity when she explained the utter impossibility of leaving the office, and told a circumstantial fib about a title that had to be closed with people from out of town.

In order finally to get him away however, she could change her mind, she promised to hurry through her affairs and then drive out to bring him home.

Gray drove directly to the lease he had come to examine, and was disappointed to learn that the owner had just left. This was annoying, "Bob" had assured him that he was expected. Inquiry elicited from the surly individual in charge no more than the reluctant admission that Jackson had been called to the nearest telephone, but would be back sometime.

Col. Lounsberry Weds Miss Guyton of Washington, D. C.

A romance that developed in the United States Land Office in Washington, D. C., during many years of close association in work in that department culminated some time ago in the marriage of Colonel Clement A. Lounsberry of Washington, D. C., founder of the Bismarck Tribune in 1873, and Miss Libbie E. Guyton who was employed in the general land office for forty-five years prior to her marriage.

The bride was born in Maryland, May 3, 1859 and was appointed in 1877 from the state of Tennessee as clerk in the Homestead division at Washington, doing clerical work in the office of the secretary of the interior. For a short time previous to her appointment in the interior department, she was employed in the pension bureau. She was retired from her position in the interior department Nov. 10, 1922.

Some time after severing his connections with the Tribune in 1884 Colonel Lounsberry accepted his first position with the land office, becoming special agent for the general land office for a period of four years, and again in 1905 he gave up editorial duties in Fargo to devote all his attention to his public land work. This position required his residence in Washington.

During the past eighteen years he has resided in the Oneonta Apartments, 76 New York Avenue, North-east. General E. A. Williams called upon Colonel and Mrs. Lounsberry at their apartment when in Washington this winter. The colonel has been married twice previously celebrated his eightieth birthday recently, his wife is sixty-four.

About a year ago Colonel Lounsberry was in North Dakota visiting with friends and relatives. After having taken an active part in North Dakota politics and the development of the state, he never lost his interest in the west. His history of North Dakota which he prepared within recent years is one of the best that has been written.

The bridal couple are making their home in Washington.

Wraps and suits for street wear are made of either tweed or twill this season. The tweed are not the heather shades of last season, but the more usual pepper and salt, brown, gray and black mixtures. Suits with plain box coats swinging free from the shoulders are popular for sport wear in tweed, and for business or afternoon wear or twill.

Coats like the model sketched show the deep cape back to advantage and are particularly good when made of heavy English wool plaid or tweed. They are top coats that defy any unexpected shower and are invaluable for traveling.

The same model is shown also in twill with a silk lining of some brilliant color and is adaptable enough to be very smart for afternoon wear.

CAPTIVES OF BANDITS TO BE RELEASED SOON

Major Allen, U. S. A., Release Predictions Action to be Taken Soon

ARE NEGOTIATING

Tientsin, China, June 1.—All the foreign captives held by the Suchow train bandits in their stronghold will be released in a few days, according to Major Robert A. Allen, U. S. Army Medical Corps, who arrived here tonight accompanied by W. Smith, an Englishman, the two men having been released by the outlaws yesterday.

SUN'S ARMY GAINS
Canton, China, June 1.—Sun Yat Sen's army has captured Waichow, about 20 miles east of Canton. The enemy is retreating in disorder with the Canton constitutionalists in active pursuit.

MAKE PROGRESS
Taichow, China, June 1.—Roy Anderson, one of the men who has been acting as an intermediary between the bandits and Chinese officials, told the Associated Press today that "great progress has been effected in the negotiations with the outlaws who are holding as captives foreigners taken in the Suchow train raid."

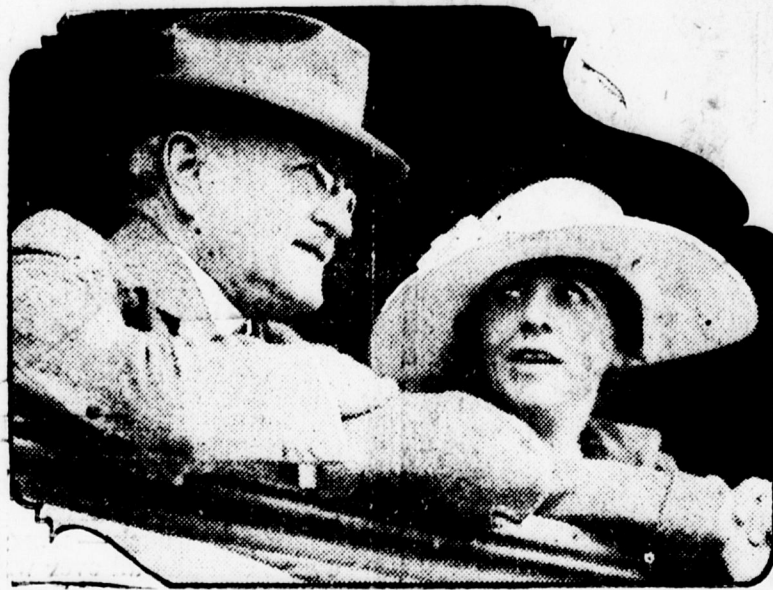

CAPTURES BIG RED FOX IN AN OVERLAND

The horse is doomed. First of all, faithful Old Dobbin pulling the family phaeton was elated from the dusty summer landscape, by the motor car. Then the plodding truck horse was pushed aside, while the sea-going hack horse was forced into the history of other days.

Now the existence of the blue-blooded lanky hunter is threatened. He too, will soon be listed in the Museums of Natural History as an institution that couldn't withstand the onslaught of motorization. Perhaps he will figure in the Zoos as a specimen of interest to the holiday visitors. Old Gentlemen from the Blue Grass State will wipe dry lips and tell coming generations that they once knew a horse that was a horse, that could clear every hurdle in the hunting field and shimmy home with the "brush" beating a thickish tattoo on his spare ribs.

Recently at Allen, Pennsylvania, an automobile fox hunt was held. Twenty-eight deep throated hounds mingled their bays with the roar of open exhausts while they scraped their noses on the stubble in a mad endeavor to distinguish the smell of gasoline from the scent of the quarry. Forty-three cars of various makes followed them across country, and up lanes, in the chase of a big red fox. Herbert H. Renard driving an Overland car was first in at the "kill" and captured the prize. It was tough going, over rough fields, through shallow creeks and over stiff grades. Mr. Renard claims that the patented triplex springs gave him a distinct advantage over the other cars. These springs which are used on all Overlands, embody the principle of pulling

Every spoonful of Kellogg's Bran helps free you from toxic poisons!

Constipation is largely responsible for auto-intoxication that leads to dangerous diseases unless it is not only checked but permanently relieved. Constipation, in fact, is the basis of a majority of human ailments which could be headed off if people would only help rid themselves of this serious, health-threatening condition, which can be easily done.

Constipation must be fought to a finish—not with pills and cathartics, which are dangerous to the delicate membranes of the intestines and temporary at best—but with nature's greatest, most health food—Bran—Kellogg's Bran, which is as delicious as it is beneficial.

Kellogg's Bran is wonderful in its work because it is ALL BRAN. And, to get permanent relief, ALL BRAN is a necessity, for it is the "bulk" of Kellogg's Bran that sweeps and purifies, ridding the system of poisons and bringing conditions to normal. Eat Kellogg's Bran regularly—at least two tablespoonfuls daily; as much with each meal in chronic cases—and we guarantee that you will get relief permanently and naturally.

Kellogg's Bran is delicious. You do not have to learn to like it. Eat it as a cereal or sprinkle on or mix with hot or cold cereals. Or, cook it with hot cereals, allowing two tablespoonfuls for each person. Kellogg's makes wonderful muffins, griddle cakes, raisin bread, macaroons, etc. Recipes on package.

Leading hotels, clubs and restaurants serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. All grocers.

CAPTIVES OF BANDITS TO BE RELEASED SOON

Major Allen, U. S. A., Release Predictions Action to be Taken Soon

ARE NEGOTIATING

Tientsin, China, June 1.—All the foreign captives held by the Suchow train bandits in their stronghold will be released in a few days, according to Major Allen, U. S. A., who arrived here tonight accompanied by W. Smith, an Englishman, the two men having been released by the outlaws yesterday.

SUN'S ARMY GAINS

Canton, China, June 1.—Sun Yat Sen's army has captured Waichow, about 70 miles east of Canton. The enemy is retreating in disorder with the Canton constitutionalists in active pursuit.

MAKE PROGRESS

Tsaoehwang, China, June 1.—Roy Anderson, one of the men who has been acting as an intermediary between the bandits and the Chinese officials, told the Associated Press today that "great progress has been effected in the negotiations with the outlaws who are holding as captives foreigners taken in the Suchow train raid."

CAPTURES BIG RED FOX IN AN OVERLAND

The horse is doomed. First of all, faithful Old Dobbin pulling the family phaeton was liberated from the dusty summer landscape, by the motor car. Then the plodding truck horse was pushed aside, while the sea-going hark horse was forced into the history of other days.

Now the existence of the blue-blooded lanky hunter is threatened. He too, will soon be listed in the Museum of Natural History as an institution that couldn't withstand the onslaught of motorization. Perhaps he will figure in the Zoo as a specimen of interest to the holiday visitors. Old Gentlemen from the Blue Grass State will wipe dry lips and tell coming generations that they once knew a horse that was a horse, that could clear every hurdle in the hunting field and shimmy home with the "brush" leaving a thickish tattoo on his spare ribs.

Here's the general, himself, all dressed up in civies, taking in the society horse show at Washington. With him is Mrs. J. A. Hull wife of Colonel Hull of the judge advocate general's office.

RACE SUICIDE NOT POPULAR IN CORLISS

Fergus Falls, Minn., June 1.—Race suicide is not popular in the town of Corliss, Ottertail county, where Mr. and Mrs. Saml Wallace are the parents of 21 children, the 21st arrival a 12-pound son being announced today. The family consisted of 14 sons and seven daughters, 18 of who are living. There are 45 grand children and three great-grand children. Mr. Wallace is 69 years old.

WILLISTON GETS BIG RAIN

Williston, N. D., June 1.—One and eighty-four inches of rain fell at Williston during the night. There was ample rainfall Wednesday in many points in Williams county. The dry spell did not harm grain.

ANTI-DAYLIGHT SAVING BILL

THIRD WOMAN IS ELECTED TO PARLIAMENT

London, June 1.—Miss Mabel Russell, actress wife of Capt. Hilton Phillips, was returned in a bye-election as a member of the House of Commons for the Berwick-Upon-Tweed division of North Cumber- land. The seat was previously held by Miss Russell's husband, who lost it because of irregularities by his election agents. Miss Russell, a conservative, will be the third woman to sit in the Commons.

Every spoonful of Kellogg's Bran helps free you from toxic poisons!

PROTEST MADE OVER DIGGING UP SKELETONS

People of Gravesend, England,
Resent America's Effort
In Cemetery

Gravesend, England, June 1.—Resentment at the action of Edward P. Gaston, American archaeologist and his associates in digging up the remains of scores of bodies in St. George's churchyard in their search for the bones of Ptolemy, continued unabated among the townspeople today.

Although Mr. Gaston had been at much pains to explain that no disrespect was intended the inhabitants of Gravesend, England, held meetings and protested. Some of them threatened to petition for removal of Cannon Edge, the blind pastor of the church, who officiated yesterday at the reinterment of the bones.

They were particularly aggrieved, they said, to see the excavators parading of cake and tea on flat stones while workmen with cigarettes in their mouth hauled up buckets of bones from the vaults and photographers snapped the gruesome scene.

PLANT LICE ARE FOUND ON CURRANT BUSH

"Currant foliage in this part of the country is very much curled and discolored with reddish patches, caused by the presence of tiny greenish plant-lice on the lower surface of the leaves," declares Dr. R. L. Webster, entomologist at the North Dakota Agricultural college. "These small insects are provided with sucking mouth-parts through which they obtain their food from the leaves."

"In order to control the insects some contact poison is necessary, but because of the excessive curling of the foliage, it is usually difficult to actually reach the insects. An early start is absolutely necessary with any treatment directed against these plant lice."

"Soap solutions or tobacco extracts are recommended for the control of these plant-lice. A simple soap solution, made by boiling one pound of soap in water and diluting to make 8 gallons of solution, is effective when it comes in contact with the insects. Any good quality of white laundry soap is generally satisfactory."

"Tobacco extracts, such as nicotine sulphate or black leaf-40 may also be used for these insects. Such materials do not easily injure foliage and may be used in very dilute concentrations. Usually one part of black leaf-40 may be diluted with 700 or 800 parts of water."

"It is absolutely necessary to force materials such as these into the curled leaves in order to strike the plant-lice and an upturned nozzle should be used for this purpose."

Reports Show Cream Grading Necessary, Claim

Fargo, June 1.—Comments of the United States Department of Agriculture, market report for May 24 show in a definite way why cream should be bought according to grade, is the statement of J. R. Dies of the dairy department at the North Dakota Agricultural college. The report was as follows:

"There was a good demand for 89 to 91 score butter, and this class of goods was closely cleaned up, but otherwise the market was quiet. The supply of top scores was not heavy. Undergrades in liberal supply and hard to sell. Undergrade cars also plentiful and hard to move."

"There was a 2-2 cent spread between 87 score butter, and 90 score butter, but the usual outstanding difference was that there was a demand for good butter at the prices quoted, while the low score butter was a drug on the market," Mr. Dies declared.

"Reports indicate that the system of grading inaugurated by Dairy Commissioner Reynolds the first of the month is progressing nicely. There are a few communities and a few individuals that are not satisfied, and there will probably be a number of difficulties to be overcome, but results to date are encouraging."

"The buying of cream according to grade is inevitable, as it is just as unjust to the producer to pay the same price for cream regardless of the quality as it would be to buy all cream by the gallon, regardless of the fat test."

"Everyone who is interested in the development of the dairy business in North Dakota should do all that they can to make cream grading a success."
